I had so looked forward to coming to this historic event, but sadly my health could be adversely affected by getting on an airplane with the virus all around. I have been in quarantine since Christmas last year because of a fall and it would be a mistake for me to try, even with all precautions being taken. Thank you for all the preparations you have done. It makes me very sad that I may not be able to see you all again but for those of us that are walking this journey with the Lord, we will see each other in our heavenly home.
